

Davis Vision Updates Progressive Lens Collection Effective 4/1/2013

What is changing? Davis Vision has updated the progressive lens collection to reflect market trends, move older technology to standard, add new technology, and remove low volume lenses from the collection. The tables below show the brands available for your patients as of April 1, 2013.

Why is this change being made? Davis Vision remains committed to balancing product choice with manufacturing quality and efficiency. Having premier materials that fit a patient’s needs with consumer-recognized brands like Varilux and Zeiss as well as new technologies like digital progressive designs can contribute to increased satisfaction with the overall eye care experience.

What about remakes? Only the below list of lenses is available after April 1, 2013. If you request a remake for a lens that is no longer available, it can be remade with the original brand or a substitute brand may be chosen from the same category. For remakes with the same brand, the order must be placed by contacting a Davis Vision customer service agent.

What about backordered lenses? Davis Vision will manufacture the lenses requested on the original order (which may include a progressive from our prior Collection).
